BAI ROPES COURSE – HUGE SUCCESS!

20 BAI Advisors braved and conquered the Ropes Course prior to the September 2008 Academy. This confidence building course made a huge impact on these advisors. Many advisors face challenges of confidence as they go about creating their Ideal Client Communities.

These challenges come in many forms, but conquering them often requires a special experience. So, in an effort to help its advisor clients, BAI arranged a one-day "Ropes Course". By helping those advisors face the challenges of climbing a network of high ropes and obstacles BAI has sought to help them discover within themselves the means to be more confident when facing the adversities of business and life. In addition, the camaraderie that resulted from this course set these individuals up for continuing inspiration and support from their fellow Ropes Participants as they continue to build their Ideal Client Communities. The resulting confidence, inspiration and support will help them and most importantly, their clients, create a better quality of life by using the principles of Values-Based Financial Planning.
